

System Failure Occurrence in Our Group (Report 3)

Nichirei Corporation (Head Office: Chuo-ku, Tokyo; President & CEO: Kazunori Shimamoto) has sequentially begun operations affected by system failures caused by cyberattacks starting today.

Currently, we are partially restricting orders from customers and business partners while partially operating refrigerated warehouses and food factories.

We are preparing for normal operation at all locations, aiming for the end of next week.

< the business affected this time >

- Handling inbound and outbound operations for refrigerated warehouses at Nichirei Logistics Group companies
- Nichirei Foods frozen food shipping operations

From the day of the incident, our company took system shutdown measures, established an emergency response headquarters, and proceeded with investigation and response with support from an external security specialist company.

Starting today, we have sequentially started inbound and outbound operations and frozen food shipment operations at all refrigerated warehouse locations.

We are continuing to investigate the causes and scope of impact related to this matter.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience caused to our customers and business partners.
