 Important data security announcement. Read more and then on personal data took place.

The scope of confirmed stolen data includes names and surnames, PESEL numbers, residential addresses, telephone numbers and e-mail addresses.

At this stage, the theft of medical documentation has not been confirmed.

September 9, 2026 We have recorded dangerous attacks on our infrastructure.

Also on September 9, 2026, we sent a report regarding the incident to the Personal Data Protection Office. On the same day, we informed the Police about the incident and sent logs of the attack, which support the Police in their actions against cybercrime.

From the day the incident was detected, we regularly and consistently reported the incidents to the appropriate services.

The events were reported, m.in, to the Central Bureau for Combating Cybercrime, the Office for Personal Data Protection, CSIRT NASK, the e-Health Centre, and the Social Insurance Institution.

We are in constant cooperation with the above-mentioned services. At the same time, we are conducting further analysis of the incident and implementing additional security measures.

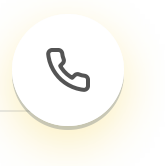

Current activities and availability of the website

Over the past week, our systems have been the target of frequent and repeated attack attempts by cybercriminals.

We take steps to protect our infrastructure and ensure the continuity of our services.

Due to the intensity and frequency of the attacks, the service may occasionally operate slower, and access to some modules may be temporarily limited or unavailable.
