IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA

MICROSOFT CORPORATION and HEALTH-ISAC, INC.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

YANG JIAN d/b/a YAM STORE, INC., and DOES 1-10,

Defendants.

Case No. 1:26-cv-26998-JEM

FILED UNDER SEAL

PLAINTIFFS' NOTICE OF PENDING, REFILED, RELATED OR SIMILAR ACTIONS

Pursuant to Local Rule 3.8, Plaintiffs Microsoft Corporation and Health-ISAC, Inc. notify the Court of Microsoft Corporation v. Does 1-5, No. 1:26-cv-24064-JB (S.D. Fla.), filed June 10, 2026, and assigned to the Honorable Jacqueline Becerra (the "Amadey-StealC Action").

Microsoft brought the Amadey-StealC Action to disrupt infrastructure supporting two cybercriminal malware services, Amadey and StealC. In the instant action, Plaintiffs seek to disrupt the Yam Store marketplace for fraudulently obtained cloud services and infrastructure supporting the CoGUI and Iron Man phishing services. Both actions concern cybercriminal services used to compromise victims and seek emergency relief directed at Internet domains, including assistance from third-party domain providers to place the identified domains beyond the defendants' control.

Plaintiffs submit this notice to identify the earlier-filed action and permit the Court to consider whether the actions warrant any coordination or other treatment under the Court's Internal Operating Procedure 2.15.00. The actions concern different defendants and different identified infrastructure; Plaintiffs do not represent that the defendants or domains in the two actions are the same, but rather that it may be important to consider both side by side to avoid "the unnecessary duplication of judicial labor if heard by a different Judge.” See Internal Operating Procedure 2.15.00.

Dated: October 6, 2026

Respectfully submitted,
